DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 4-6, 30 and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 4-6 are indefinite for the recitation of the phrase "the composition of claim 1", as claim 1 is directed to a method. Claims 4-6 should refer to the method, as well.

Claims 30 and 32 are indefinite for the recitation of the phrases "near vacuum" and "relative vacuum". These terms are relative terms which render the claims indefinite. The terms are not defined by the claims, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. It is unclear as to what is encompassed by each, as well as any corresponding overlap between the two phrases, where the difference between "near vacuum" and "relative vacuum" is unclear.

Claim Objections

Claim 32 is objected to because of the following informalities: In line 2, the phrase "vacuum a closed container" should be "vacuum in a closed container".

Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Art Unit: 1761

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

i) Claims 1-38 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-38 of copending Application No. 09/982,569. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because each set of claims employs the same tenderization composition and methods, with the exception of a different starting meat. In view of the co-pending method, which utilizes chicken in the tenderization process, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have utilized pork as the meat to be tenderized, as the tenderization of both types of meats was well known in the art, and it would not have involved an inventive step to utilize another common type of meat product in the claimed method.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

ii) Claims 1-38 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-40 of U.S. Patent No. 6,537,598. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because each set of claims employs the same tenderization composition and similar methods, with the exception of a different starting meat. In view of the patented method, which utilizes beef in the tenderization process, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have utilized pork as the meat to be tenderized, as the tenderization of both types of meats was well known in the art, and it would not have involved an inventive step to utilize another common type of meat product in the claimed method.
